The Buard of Agriculture held four meetings last week. The first at Parkfor the meeting were made by Thomas Dagget, the Piscataquis member of the lick of accommodations for those attending the meeting. The forenoon session commenced at half-past ten A. M., the Piscataquis member in the chair. H. O. Ayers, Eq., gave all a hearty welcome and Hom Z. A. Gilbert responded for the Board. Hon. R. W. Ellis, member from Waldo County, was then introduced and, s soke up in the subject of "Farm Manures, How to nake and apply them." He conaidered this one of the most important agricultural subjects that could be discussed-tie soil is the farmer's bank and the ferti izers are his bank deposits. seven-eig aths of the liquids could be saved. With a brin cellar and a sufficient amount of absorb ng material at hand, all could be secured, and the cellar kept in a sanitary condition. He uses sawdust, and earth, or something of like nature, for absorbents. Everything about his house and farm buildings is utilized, and supplements with commercial fertilizers. He applies all his dressing immediately after his hay and g san crops are harvested—spreads upon grass land and turns under not very deep-on pultivated land he turns under with a deep furrow, as there is no danger of covering too deep. In the spring he sometimes plows lightly again, or goes over, it with the disc harrow, the harrow not being used enough to work the dressing up near the surface. The dressing being lighter than the soil, too much stirring will bring the dressing to the surface the same as a making peas and oats will bring the latter on top. He never puts dressing In the hill-sows commercial fertilizers broadcast and brushes in lightly, but barn dressing nust be covered immediately efter applying. He is aware chemists sav there is nothing lost by drying and evaporation while dressing lave exposed on the surface, and is not inclined to dispute their word, but insists that there is a waste somewhere. NEW HAMPSHIRE

CONCORD Nov 1 At 3 03 o clock this afternoon a message was received in the Senate from Covernor Sawyer, vetoing the bill authoric in the Boston and Lowell, or Roston and Vaine to lease the Northern Railroad and f leased by the Lowell permitting the Boston and Maine to guarantee and assum, the covenants of such lease

The Veto Tabled

The senate tabled, 14 to 9, the Governor s veto b il to permit The Boston and Maine or Boston and Lowell to lease the Northern Railroad. The Governor smain reason was the fact that the present bill was no essent al purt of the Huzen bill, at ready vetoes on account of corrupt methods and attempted bribery used in promoting its passage. The same reasons pronucting its passage. The same reasons apply with equal force here otherwise all provisions of the Hazen bill might be enac ed in separate measures and the objections to the whole bill be evided. rections to the whole hill be evided.

The Governor also says the Boston and Maine and Boston and Lowell have no physical connection with the Northern, being separated from it by the Concord They evidently mean to absorb the entire railroad system of the State and it is a question whether such an event would be for the State's interests.

Another serious accident is eported at the newly Waterville primping station. Thursday afternoon, Mr 3: C Priest, foreinan of the crew at work there, while passing under a staging was struck in the head by a failing brick. It was found that the skull was fractured. The patient now lies in a critical condition.

The patient now lies in a critical conduction.

The plucky women of Kennobec are by no means confined to the annals of ploneer days There are a number in Augusta now who deserve to runk with any of "ye olden times". Last week the residence of Mr Peter Rice, on Florence street, caught fire and about a dozen is dies of the neighborhood instead of was ing time in giving an alarm, set resolutely to work with axes and pails to put it out. The partitions were chopped away and the fire put out in all, and the city was saved the expense which would have resulted if the fire de partment had been called out.
